

ACTIVITY SHEET

UNDERSTANDING AND BUILDING OUR WORLD AND OUR STORIES TOGETHER

At the McCord Museum, we use objects, stories and shared experiences to help our visitors better understand the world around them, no matter their age or background. With our participatory approach and civic perspective, we prioritize observation, questions and dialogue in our virtual activities.

INDIGENOUS VOICES OF TODAY KNOWLEDGE, TRAUMA, RESILIENCE GUIDED TOUR

Length: 60 minutes

Target audience: All audiences

Educational areas: Social sciences – Personal development – Ethics and religion – History and civilizations – Art history – Religious studies – Sociology – Philosophy – Indigenous studies – Literature – Arts and letters – Francization

DESCRIPTION OF THE ACTIVITY

The primary purpose of this visit is to create an encounter with Indigenous peoples to give visitors the sense that they are truly engaged and spark a dialogue, contributing to a better mutual understanding. The tour brings to light all the largely unrecognized knowledge of Indigenous peoples, the deep wounds they carry today and their inspiring resilience. Objects from the Museum's Indigenous Cultures collection and powerful and inspiring words from members of Québec's 11 First Nations highlight a new and contemporary understanding of Indigenous realities.
